Supported Study Timetable 2018

In preparation for up-coming prelim examination (January 2019) many young people find attending supported study very valuable. It allows them additional time to consolidate their learning and seek support in areas they find difficult. Evidence suggests that young people who actively engage in supported study will perform better in their examinations.

This booklet details the supported study sessions that will run through November and December 2018 in preparation for the prelims in January 2019. A subsequent booklet with dates for 2019 will be sent post-prelims.

Some subjects are offering supported study on particular dates which will focus on key skills and knowledge required for the up-coming prelims. Other subjects are offering a weekly general supported study to help you consolidate your class work.
